WHAT LEGISLATORS ARE DOING AND OTHER HAPPENINGS

BY D. A. DONOVAN,
Special Columbus Correspondent.

THE decision of Senator Garver of Miami county to move the death of his own bill on flood conservancy has marked the climax of one of the most spectacular fights the present general assembly has seen. In fact, it is doubtful if any assembly in recent years has experienced the intensity of feeling which the flood fight had developed. It is remarkable that not only the supporters of the present, or Vonderheide

Cuts Examiners' Compensation.

Examiners of chauffeurs will suffer a big cut in their compensation as a result of the adoption of a rule by Registrar W. H. Walker of the state automobile department, doing away with the necessity of chauffeurs taking an annual examination. From now on a chauffeur, after his first examination, can get a new license annually without examination upon filing a certificate signed by two reputable citizens showing that he has been a careful driver during the year and has not been in any trouble that would warrant the state in refusing him a new license. Examiners have been getting 50 cents for each applicant examined, and they will be deprived of most of their business under the new rule. It is estimated that the change will save the state between $6,000 and $7,000 a year. The Cincinnati examiner took in something like $1,000 for his work in January, which is the month that most of the applications are received. There are 14 chauffeurs' examiners and it is expected that most of them will resign because of the curtailment of their pay. The automobile department plans to appoint an examiner for each county.

Renders an Important Ruling.

An important ruling for the guidance of election officials is laid down by the supreme court in its opinion in the case in which the validity of a local option election at Chagrin Falls is upheld. The election was contested because the polls were kept open a half hour longer than provided for in the mayor's proclamation. The court says that the provisions of the statute fixing the time for the opening and closing of the polls at an election are directory and not mandatory. In its syllabus the court, in part, says: "An election will not be invalidated by reason of the fact that the election officers, instead of closing the polls at 5:30 p. m., as directed by the statute, kept the same open until 6 o'clock p. m., when there was no fraud or collusion and where there were no illegal votes cast after the time fixed by the statute for closing sufficient to change the result of the election." Judge Oscar W. Newman wrote the opinion of the court.

County Maintains Good Record.

As a result of the decision of the supreme court Hocking county can maintain its record of never having sent a woman to the penitentiary. The supreme court upheld the court of appeals of Hocking county and thereby finally prevents Mabel Dillon from serving a term in the penitentiary for manslaughter. In refusing to review the case the higher court affirms the lower court's view that Mary Dillon was not responsible for the death of her baby girl. The common pleas court of Hocking county had found her guilty of manslaughter. She was given an indeterminate sentence, but the case was appealed.

L. L. Paris, who resigned as secretary of the state civil service commission, has been given a federal position, that of deputy revenue collector. He will receive $1,200 a year. He drew $3,000 a year in the position he gave up. His resignation was given as the reason for his resignation.

Proposes Grounds for Divorce.

If married folks form a settled aversion one toward the other, they ought to have a right to be divorced. That is the proposal of Representative Hulsitt of Hamilton county, and he has put it in black and white in the form of a bill. So if the Hulsitt bill should become a law and a married pair decided that they have come to dislike one another to the extent that their mutual disregard had come to be "a settled aversion," they could appear in court and relate their troubles and that would be the end of their conjugal existence.

Willie Approves More Bills.

Three more house bills have just been signed and made laws by Gov. Willis. They are the Thatcher bill, wiping out the law empowering the probate judge to appoint two men to annually examine the country treasury; the Whitacre bill, appropriating $5,000 for the establishment of additional free state employment offices; and the Hoy bill, authorizing the state board of health to furnish physicians and hospitals free anti-toxin for indigent patients.

SLAYER OF STANFORD WHITE PAID TO FLEE ASYLUM.

Defense Loses Fight When Conspiracy Charge Is Denied—Millionaire Planned Escape.

New York, March 12.—The story of his escape from Matteawan, of the plot leading thereto and the subsequent flight into Canada was told by Harry Kendall Thaw before Justice Alfred Page in the criminal branch of the supreme court.

Thaw denied conspiracy. He assumed all credit for the escape. He admitted paying Richard Butler $6,000, out of which Butler was to reward the others and gave Richard, alias "Educated Roger," Thompson, the chauffeur, a "present of $1,000 in addition to $10 to $15 daily wage."

Thaw declared that he had been advised, prior to his escape, by the late Alfred Henry Lewis, that there was no law in New York state making it a crime to escape.

Thaw declared that his plan to escape was worked through "one of his agents," H. A. Hoffman, of Dutchess county, once undersheriff of Dutchess county. Hoffman, he declared, hired the motor car for the motor cars and at his (Thaw's) direction started the cars outside the gates of Matteawan on the morning of August 17, 1912.

Stanfield in his cross-examination for the defense tried to show that Thaw was sane at the time of his escape, realized that he was sane, and that as a sane person was justified in leaving Matteawan.

The ruling out of evidence to show Thaw sane, a vital blow to defense, came during the cross-examination of Bernard H. Kelsey, deputy sheriff of Dutchess county. Thaw asked Kelsey whether Thaw did not appear entirely rational. Deputy Attorney General Cook objected and the crucial battle was precipitated. Justice Page sustained the objection. The jury was excluded during the arguments.

Prinz Eitel Friedrich Is in Need of Repairs and Supplies—Owners of Boat Declare It Carried Cargo of Wheat—No Contraband Was on Board.

Washington, March 12.—The German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich arrived at Newport News on Wednesday, bringing the captain and crew of the American grain vessel William P. Frye, which the German warship sank at sea on January 27.

The owners of the vessel have claimed that she carried no contraband of any kind. Official and diplomatic headquarters were much perturbed over the matter, but nobody was willing to make any comment until the facts are fully established.

The customs officers at Seattle wire that the manifest of the William P. Frye, which was loaded there, show that she carried 132,582 bushels of wheat.

The Frye sailed from Seattle on November 4 for Queenstown and Falmouth. She passed Tatoosh, Wash., the next day and had not been heard from since. The Prinz Eitel Friedrich officers report that, on the ground that she was carrying contraband of war, the warship stopped the Frye in the South Atlantic on January 27, took off Captain Kiehn, his wife and crew, and then sank the freighter.

The Frye was valued at $150,000 and her cargo at $280,000.

The Prinz Eitel Friedrich put in at Newport News, presumably for coal and supplies. She also is said to be in need of repairs and may intern here. She is reported to have 326 French and Russian prisoners of war aboard. One report, which was unconfirmed, has it that the big steamer was chased to the mouth of Chesapeake bay by a British cruiser.

Immediately after she dropped anchor the coast guard cutter Onondaga went alongside. While at sea the German cruiser had been painted white on one side and black on the other.

The Prinz Eitel Friedrich started out on her career as a warship from Tsing Tao. She formerly was a regular liner of the North German Lloyd. She reached Tsing Tao shortly after the outbreak of hostilities and the German marine authorities at that port equipped her with naval guns and turned her into an auxiliary cruiser. She carries a crew of 350 men and officers.

The cruiser sailed from Tsing Tao before the Japanese attacked that port and early in November she was reported off the western coast of South America, where for several months she has been active in the pursuit of British and French shipping. One of her exploits was the sinking early in December of the British steamer Chacaras off Chile.

Washington, March 13.—"A most searching inquiry will be made and whatever action is taken will be based upon the result of that inquiry."

President Wilson issued this statement on Thursday regarding the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich. The president took the initiative in directing the investigation and will have a personal hand in it. That the United States will call on Germany for proper amends and reparation for the sinking of the American ship was the consensus of official and diplomatic circles in Washington.

ONE FRENCH AND FOUR BRITISH STEAMERS ARE TORPEDOED BY UNDER SEA RAIDERS.

Three Others Are Damaged By Elusive U-29—She Proved Too Elusive For Her Captors.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. London.—The submarine U-29, one of the largest and fastest of German under-water craft, had a successful three days off the Scilly Islands and in the English Channel, she succeeded in sinking four British steamers and one French steamer and in damaging three others. The German commander gave the crews of most of the steamers time to leave their vessels, and in some cases towed the ship's lifeboats with the crew to passing steamers, by which they were brought to port. The U-29 was chased by patrol boats, but proved too elusive for them, while steamers which tried to ram or escape her found that the submarine was much faster than similar craft which had previously been sent on a mission to destroy Great Britain's overseas trade.

KIDNEYS CLOG UP FROM EATING TOO MUCH MEAT

Take Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers—Meat Forms Uric Acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jass Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jass Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.
